52 of 60 community health provider cadres may provide at least one type of family planning commodity in communities.

In 8 countries, there is guidance for how community health providers should access back-up supplies in the case of a stockout.