

4 of 23 countries profiled use community health workers (CHWs) to provide long-acting contraceptive methods including implants and IUDs at the community-level.

