

22 of the 23 countries profiled use community health workers (CHWs) to provide family planning commodities at the community level.

But, only 17 countries have a community-based family planning (CBFP) policy.

